Group Description

The Drug Information Association (DIA) is a global nonprofit organization that brings together professionals from the biopharmaceutical industry, regulatory agencies, academia, and other stakeholders involved in healthcare product development and regulation. Established in 1964, DIA aims to foster collaboration, share knowledge, and promote innovation in the discovery, development, and lifecycle management of healthcare products, including pharmaceuticals, medical devices, and therapies. DIA organizes conferences, training programs, webinars, and publications to facilitate networking, education, and dialogue among its members and the broader healthcare community. Its activities cover a wide range of topics, including regulatory affairs, clinical research, pharmacovigilance, patient engagement, and healthcare technology. DIA operates globally, with regional offices and chapters around the world, to serve the diverse needs of its members and stakeholders in different geographic regions.

Attendee Profile

Attendees include professionals from the biopharmaceutical industry, regulatory agencies, academia, healthcare providers, patient advocacy groups, and service providers.
