Society for Laboratory Automation & Screening
SLAS2025 International Conference & Exhibition
Saturday, January 25th – Wednesday, January 29th, 2025
Anticipated Attendance: 7,500

Group Description

SLAS is an international community of more than 10,000 individual scientists, engineers, researchers, technologists and others from academic, government and commercial laboratories. SLAS provides forums for education and information exchange to encourage study and advance laboratory science and technology for the drug discovery, agrochemical, biotechnology, chemical, clinical diagnostic, consumer product, energy, food, forensic, pharmaceutical, security and other industries.

Attendee Profile

Attendees will include scientists and researchers working in biotech, pharma, and medical research, particularly those interested in the latest advancements in automation, laboratory tools, and high-throughput screening technologies. Laboratory professionals, from both research and clinical labs, will also be present, seeking innovative solutions to improve laboratory workflows, data analysis, and instrumentation. Industry professionals, including executives, managers, and product developers from companies specializing in laboratory automation, robotics, and diagnostics, will attend to explore new technologies and business opportunities. Additionally, vendors and exhibitors will showcase cutting-edge products and services related to laboratory technologies, while academics and educators from universities and research institutions will participate to learn about the latest developments in lab automation and life sciences. Regulatory representatives and policy makers may also attend to discuss industry standards and compliance, and technology developers will be present to share advancements in automation, artificial intelligence, and machine learning applied to laboratory settings. Overall, the SLAS conference provides a key networking platform for professionals seeking to stay at the forefront of research, technology, and innovation in laboratory science.
