Group Description

Digestive Disease Week (DDW) is the world's premier conference for professionals in gastroenterology, hepatology, endoscopy, and gastrointestinal surgery. Organized by four leading societies—the American Gastroenterological Association (AGA), the American Association for the Study of Liver Diseases (AASLD), the American Society for Gastrointestinal Endoscopy (ASGE), and the Society for Surgery of the Alimentary Tract (SSAT)—DDW brings together clinicians, researchers, and industry leaders to present cutting-edge research, share innovative techniques, and discuss advancements in digestive disease treatment and care.

Attendee Profile

Digestive Disease Week (DDW) will bring together a diverse group of attendees such as medical professionals (medical residents, fellows, and students), including gastroenterologists, hepatologists, endoscopists, surgeons, and oncologists, researchers, clinical scientists, academics, university professors and educators, representatives from the healthcare industry, including pharmaceutical and biotech companies, medical device manufacturers, and healthcare technology firms showcasing new treatments and diagnostic tools.
