Group Description

The Health & Fitness Association (HFA) is the leading trade association representing the global health, fitness, and wellness industry. Formerly known as IHRSA, HFA advocates for the interests of health clubs, gyms, studios, and fitness professionals by providing industry research, education, policy advocacy, and business resources. The association focuses on advancing standards of excellence, promoting physical activity and wellness, and supporting the growth, innovation, and long-term sustainability of fitness and wellness businesses worldwide.

Attendee Profile

The HFA 2026 International Convention & Tradeshow will draw a large, global audience of professionals from across the health, fitness, and wellness industry. Attendees typically include owners and executives of health clubs, gyms, fitness studios, and wellness centers, as well as general managers, directors of operations, and senior leaders responsible for business strategy, programming, and growth. The event also attracts fitness programming and training professionals, marketing and sales leaders, and equipment and technology buyers, along with suppliers, exhibitors, and service providers showcasing products, innovations, and solutions for the sector. Many participants are decision-makers with purchasing authority, coming to network, attend educational sessions and keynotes, discover new fitness products and services, and engage in international forums and business development opportunities with peers from around the world.
